CARLES MARIGÓ

"An immersive and moving piano recital supported by artificial intelligence"

What is Inner Voice?

Inner Voice is much more than a concert: it is an immersive experience that brings together music, technology, and emotion in a sensorial journey inviting the audience to connect with their own inner voice.

What is Inner Voice?

With original compositions and an innovative stage design, artist Carles Marigó creates a space where sonic poetry and artificial intelligence engage in a face-to-face dialogue. Far from being a mere technological gimmick, AI becomes an active member of the artistic team: it plays, listens, responds, proposes. It does not replace the musician, but rather accompanies, amplifies, and expands their expressive possibilities.

Inner Voice is a concert that speaks to the eyes, to the ears, and, above all, to the soul. A symbiosis between human creativity and machine, where music transforms into a collective experience that celebrates connection, sensitivity, and shared imagination.

The Structure of the Performance

Inner Voice unfolds through four pieces that explore different forms of dialogue between the piano, artificial intelligence, and the audience.

Ghost Drum – Miratge – Papallona – Tutti

The Structure of the Performance

Ghost Drum

A surprising duet between Carles Marigó and an acoustic drum set controlled by artificial intelligence. The drums respond live to the pianist's improvisation, creating an unpredictable and energetic sonic dance.

Miratge

An intimate and delicate piece where the Steinway & Sons Spirio piano becomes the stage partner. Without any physical performer, the piano reacts in real time to Marigó's interpretation, generating a dialogue where chance and intuition coexist with musical writing.

Papallona

The premiere of a short film created entirely with artificial intelligence, accompanied by live music. A poetic and visually captivating story that speaks of creativity, discovery, and friendship.

Tutti

A participatory piece where the audience takes the reins of sonic creation. Through their mobile phones, attendees can influence the rhythm, character, and even Marigó's presence on stage. An immersive experience that breaks the fourth wall and transforms the concert into a collective and shared work.

Artistic Philosophy

Inner Voice is born from the desire to build bridges between human creativity and artificial intelligence.

Far from imposing technology as a spectacle, the goal is to place it at the service of emotion, creating a sincere and vibrant dialogue between the musician, the machine, and the audience.

Each concert is conceived as a collective celebration of music, where improvisation, complicity, and emotional connection are the true center of the experience.

In Inner Voice, technology does not replace human talent: it expands it, accompanies it, and opens up new paths for expression and connection.
